HIS Institution was organized in 1859, but not until the year 1869 did it become a Church institution. Through the untiring efforts of the Rev. G. D. Bernheim, D.D., it was then secured as the property of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of North Carolina, since which time it has been conducted with gratifying success by a Board of Trustees appointed by the North Carolina Synod. Although the property belongs to the North Carolina

Synod, the doors of the institution are open to the daughters of all Synods and denominations who wish to take advantage of our opportunities.

Charter

The institution is chartered by the Legislature of the State, with all the rights and privileges of higher institutions of learning, including the conferring of academic degrees.

Location

The location of the institution in Mt. Pleasant, Cabarrus County, N. C., is altogether favorable. The town is pleasantly located in a fertile section of the State, and is entirely free from all malarial diseases. Persons suffering from chills and fever are always benefited, and in some instances cured, by a residence in town. These facts are stated in order that parents may feel safe in sending their daughters to this school. Health is invaluable for successful study, and it is gratifying that these assurances can be given. The small town possesses advantages over large cities, as a location for a school, imnotrequir-
 2 advantages for the low rate. Place a school of our advantages 3

in a railroad city, with city high prices for everything, and we would be compelled to increase our rates in proportion to the greater cost of living, servant hire, etc. So, instead of apologizing for our location, we urge it as one of our greatest ⁴ advantages, viz, being able to offer first-class advantages for the lowest rate. That our location is no hindrance to our development is attested by the past success of the institution and its annual full enrollment. ⁵

Mt. Pleasant has a population of about eight hundred and is growing industrially every year. It furnishes all the shopping facilities necessary for the students, there being four general merchandise stores, a drug store, a millinery and dress-making establishment. The stores also keep in stock books and art material.

The town is accessible via Concord, nine miles distant, on the main line of the Southern Railway, from which place there are two daily hacks. The Principal meets the students in Concord at the beginning of the session. Pupils coming without escort later, will be met at the train with suitable conveyance if previous notice of the time of their arrival be given to the Principal.

The Seminary is connected by the long distance telephone with the leading towns of North and South Carolina, and by telephone with the telegraph office at Concord, N. C. In this way parents may communicate with their daughters just as readily as if the Seminary were located on the railroad. In case of emergency the student may reach Concord in one hour and a half. Two livery stables in Mt. Pleasant furnish ample conveyance for all occasions.

Community

The community is highly moral and intelligent, and is protected by legislative enactment from all exhibitions of immoral tendency and from the sale of spirituous liquors within its corporate limits, thus affording the student the best possible environment. North Carolina College being in the same town, affords parents having sons and daughters, the opportunity of having them educated in the same place. The Lutheran Church is situated just across the street, in front of the Seminary, the most inclement weather not interfering with attendance.

Buildings and Grounds

The Seminary buildings consist of Main Building and Annex.

The annex is heated throughout by the hot water system. Toilet rooms furnished with hot and cold water, bath tubs and water closets, have been located convenient to every hall in the building. The latest electric program clock automatically rings the bells in the halls announcing the entire program of the day from six to rise in the morning till ten to retire at night. The annex is joined to the main building by a closed hall, so that the entire Institution is practically in one building, including Principal's office, parlor, reading-room and library, study hall, recitation rooms, studio, music rooms, teachers' rooms, dormitories, toilet rooms, dining room and kitchen. All these rooms are as substantially and neatly furnished as those of the average college for woman.

Design of the Institution

The design of the institution is to furnish for the least expense a Christian education to the daughters of the Church, and to those who wish to take advantage of our opportunities. It does not pursue this policy simply to secure patronage, but because it is the duty of the Church to make education as easy to secure as possible in order that all her daughters may be trained for useful places. Mt. Pleasant is a favorable location for an institution of such a character, both on account of the moral and Christian community and the cheapness of products. Many attend our school because they can not afford to pay a larger sum for an education; many attend because they do not want to pay a larger sum; many attend because the school has a record for thorough class-room drill and scholarly work; while many attend because the location offers attractions and inducements which cannot be found in a city with its costly and fashionable demands. All these classes are welcomed to our institution and are assured equally congenial environments.

The institution does not solicit the patronage of "parlor boarders," nor of those who go away to school just for the name of going to school. We beg to be excused from receiving such, as they would not find very congenial friends here. The Faculty and students of the Seminary believe that an institution of learning is for teaching and studying, and we absolutely decline to retain any student who interferes with this supreme purpose.

Course of Instruction

The course of instruction has been designed to meet the wants of female education. It is not claimed that the Seminary furnishes a collegiate curriculum in regular course, but the intelligent critic will discover that it is fully equal to the curriculum of the best ladies' seminaries, and higher and more exacting than the curriculum of some institutions claiming the name of "college." However, it will be noticed that the course is only about one year lower than the course of study in our best colleges, and those who wish to pursue more extended collegiate work will find themselves well prepared. In addition, the economical expenses here make possible a good opportunity for post-graduate work elsewhere.

However, the Seminary course of study, with the thorough drill under efficient teachers, has been found to meet all the needs of a large class of people who wish their daughters trained for useful spheres of life in a limited time and for an economical sum of money. The institution is designed for this class of people, is liberally patronized by the people, and a full school from year to year is all that we could ask in proof of the wisdom of such a policy.

Efforts will be made to impart a thorough and practical education rather than the superficial kind, which has been the bane of female education. It is designed to prepare the student for the actual duties of life. More self-dependence is being required of women at this time than ever heretofore, and each succeeding year will make that requirement more urgent.

Students entering the Seminary are requested to bring with them a signed statement from their former teacher, giving the names and authors of the books last studied, explicitly stating whether each book was completed or not.

Preparatory Department

The Primary Department is in charge of a most efficient teacher, and is designed to prepare students for the Seminary classes. Too much care cannot be exercised in laying the foundation of an education.

We advise parents and guardians who do not have good high school advantages, to enter students here, at least, for Sub-Freshman Class, as faulty and insufficient drills in these preparatory branches will mar the student's entire course and make it a great drudgery, as well as unsatisfactory in results. Graduates who pursue studies only the last year or two at their alma mater, and afterwards fail as teachers, must not lay the blame on the alma mater, but upon the school where they pursued branches in which they fail.

Diplomas

This institution gives but two full graduating diplomas—the Classical Diploma and the English Diploma. To secure the former the student must pursue all the studies prescribed in the schedule for the Seminary Department, with this one exception: that only one of the modern languages will be required. For the English Diploma Latin is omitted, Geometry and Trigonometry optional. Extra work is done in the English language and literature, and one of the modern languages is required.

Elective Studies

If a student is not pursuing a course of graduation, she may elect her studies from the regular course. Such studies must always have the approval of parents or guardians and the Principal, and be of sufficient number to employ profitably the time of the student. Studies having been selected, may not be discontinued without the permission of the Principal.

Music Department

Realizing the great importance of the ornamental branches in the education of ladies, the departments of music and art receive special attention at Mont Amœna. The most capable teachers have been placed in both departments.

Miss Ada Stirewalt, the directress of the Music Department, graduated from the Conservatory of Music of Elizabeth College with the highest honors.

Courses

Instruction is given in piano, vocal, reed organ, theory of music and history of music.

All vocal pupils are required to attend regularly the rehearsals of the chorus class, which meets every week for the study and practice of songs and choruses.

Pianoforte Course

The following is an outline of the studies indicating the standard of work required for graduation in piano:

PREPARATORY COURSE

Foundation work in Technic; Stephen Emery's Foundation Studies; Matthews' Graded Course, Book I; Simple scale forms; Simple pieces by standard composers.

FRESHMAN YEAR

Technical work continued; Scales and Arpeggios; Czerny's Velocity Studies, Op. 299, Book I, II; Matthews' Studies in Phrasing, Book I; Duvernoy Op. 120, Books I, II; Pieces by standard composers.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

Scales and Arpeggios continued, Selected studies from Heller, Loeschorn and others; First Studies of Bach. Sonatas by Kuhlman and Clementi; Easier compositions from Schumann; Bertini, Op. 29; Pieces of corresponding difficulty from standard composers.

JUNIOR YEAR

More advanced technical work; Berens, Op. 61, Book I, II; Bach's Easier Inventions; Czerney, Op. 740; Mendelssohn's Songs without Words; Easier Sonatas of Haydn and Mozart; pieces by standard composers.

SENIOR YEAR

Czerney continued; Bach's Three-Voice Inventions; Cramer (Bulow); Kullak Octave Studies; Mozart and Beethoven; Selections from Chopin, Schumann, Schubert, Liszt and others.

No definite time can be fixed for the completion of this course, as some will advance more rapidly than others, progress depending upon the pupil's natural ability, and the time devoted to practice. The minimum length of time for practice is two periods of thirty minutes each day.

Graduation

Any pupil completing satisfactorily the above course and giving proof of her qualifications by a public recital before the school will receive a diploma. The candidate is also required to take one year each of Theory of Music and Harmony.

Art Department

Careful attention is given to this branch. Several hours per day are devoted to practical work under the personal direction of the teacher, and several hours additional may be secured if desired. Special attention is given to drawing in the earlier parts of the course. Instruction is given in drawing, painting in oil and water colors, and crayon work.

General Information Regarding Departments

Preparatory Branches

It is important that the foundation of an education be securely laid. Thoroughness in the early stages of the pupil's life cannot be over-estimated. Future progress is greatly hindered by a superficial acquaintance with the fundamental branches. The policy of the school will be to insist upon a mastery of these.

The English Course

There is a distinct tendency among progressive educators to pay increased attention to the English branches. This healthy reaction against pushing English in the background by a multiplicity of other studies is emphatically approved by this school.

An education which fails to render the student capable of using correctly her mother tongue is a lamentable failure, however well instruction in other branches may be inculcated. For this reason the study of English is given first place equally with Mathematics.

Patrons will observe, on examination, that a large place has been assigned to English in our curriculum, its study being continued through every year of the course.

Latin Course

The Latin language is important in a liberal education, both because it enters so largely into the English, and because its study affords an excellent opportunity for mental discipline.

The course laid down is not intended to be exhaustive, in comparison with the best colleges and universities, but compares favorably with the leading seminaries, comprising the most generally recognized and important of the great classics. It is deemed sufficiently thorough. Students are required to make a careful and diligent study of the genius of the language and of the authors used.

Mathematical Course

This study receives a large share of attention. It is regarded as forming a most important part in the training of the young lady. It is usually considered especially necessary in the college curriculum for men but is sometimes slighted in female education. We believe this to be a mistake and act in harmony with this belief in allotting a large space to this branch.

The instruction in this department is imparted by the constant systematic study of improved text-books, the student being assisted by full and frequent explanations by the teacher, and being constantly subjected to rigid examinations.

The progress of the student is daily tested by being required to perform daily exercises, in which the principles acquired are applied to the solution of particular problems.

German Course

This rich and noble language, more nearly related to the English than all others, is a regular part of the course in the Junior and Senior years.

The purpose is to give a good working basis for conversation, and to enable the student to read the language fluently.

In the second year the most difficult syntax of the language is studied in connection with, first, the easier, then the classic German authors.

French Course

French has long been appreciated as a polite language. The course laid down embraces two years, and, like the German, is pursued in the Junior and Senior classes. The course affords a fair knowledge of the language. The pupil is required to take either German or French, and may take both.

Bible Study

In a Christian institution, the Bible, the Book of all books, should receive its full share of attention. Biblical Literature is especially to be commended, for one of the great needs of the rising generation is to be well grounded in the knowledge of the Word.

Athletic Association

This Association, composed of the students and Faculty of the Seminary, has for its object the securing and management of suitable out-door games for the recreation hours. A large and suitable court on the campus has been put in order, upon which croquet, tennis, basket-ball and baseball are provided for. There is a great interest manifested on the part of the students of the Seminary in these games, and we know that a few hours spent in recreation, that will call into play vigorously most of the organs of the body, will send the student back to her work with renewed energy, and will, at the same time, be conducive toward that ideal condition when the sound mind will be furnished and equipped with a sound and healthy body.

Gymnastics

While we take special care to fit and furnish the mind with proper means of expression, the physical culture is by no means neglected, for that really is important both as a help in giving graceful movements to the body and in maintaining the health of the student.

We often see students by the time they have completed their college course, and are fitted intellectually for their duties in life, physical wrecks, and to prevent this we have chosen the exercises with the purpose of giving strength to all parts of the body, that it may be developed in unison as well as aided in making graceful gestures. The exercises are such as free gymnastics, dumb bell drills, etc.

A hall large enough to accommodate the entire school is now used for these exercises, which makes this work pleasant and profitable.

Expenses

These have been placed at the lowest possible figure consistent with our advantages and equipment. An unbiased comparison of our prices with the Seminary equipment will result in the verdict that nowhere else can equal advantages be found at so low a figure. Neither are there any extras and fees not shown in the catalogue, but which are presented to parents after daughters are in the Institution. It is an indisputable fact that students can attend this Institution with less expense than at any other institution of equal advantages.

Notice also that our rates are for the whole year, when comparing them with the rates of other institutions, which usually show them for one-half year.

Money may be sent by express, money order, or check. The Institution will cash all checks for the students.

Books are kept in stock at the book store in town. The cost of these per session will average, probably, ten dollars. Second-hand books may often be secured, lessening the cost to the student. If parents wish us to secure books for the student, ten dollars must be deposited with us. Any money over, to the credit of the student, will be refunded.

Outfit

The utmost economy in dress will be advised, but while extravagance is guarded against, neatness and taste will always be encouraged.

The full uniform is used for all public occasions.

Each room has a stove or radiator, chamber suite, chairs, table and book case.

Pupils must have all articles of dress marked with name in full. They are expected to furnish their own toilet brushes, combs, soap, towels, table napkins, pillow cases (18x28 inches), sheets, counterpanes and one pair of blankets. They must be provided with overshoes, an umbrella, and especially with thick walking shoes.

Assistance

We have no fictitious scholarships to award, as our low rates will not allow them. However, as a Church school, it is our desire to render any assistance in our power to any deserving student without means. We invite correspondence with any interested parties.

General Regulations

Discipline

Formal rules for the government of the school will not be multiplied beyond what good order and system require. By careful supervision, the one great principle, that a high-toned sense of honor and true lady-like refinement should mark the conduct of every pupil, will be sedulously inculcated.

But rules and restrictions will not be entirely dispensed with; and the minds of the pupils will be impressed with the conviction that conformity to rule is necessary, not only for the success of the institution, but also for their own happiness and progress. And the regulations will be so administered as to induce the practice of self-government from moral principle, rather than from a fear of punishment; and, by thus forming a principle of correct action, to inspire a love of order and correct deportment, which will lead them to an intelligent, cheerful and pleasant performance of the duties of life.

The principal and teachers reside in the building, ready to afford any assistance the pupils may require, and by association exert upon them a wholesome influence.

Religious Exercises

This school is opened each day with prayer and reading of scripture lesson. No sectarian influence over the school is exercised, yet a regard for the spiritual welfare of the pupil will always be had. Convinced that the highest interest of those committed to the trust of the teachers of the school will be conserved by a proper observance of religious duties, knowledge of and regard for them will be inculcated.

There are three churches in the town (Lutheran, Methodist and Reformed), and religious services are held in one of them every Sunday. Students are required to attend Sunday School at one or the other of the churches.

Health and Comfort

Good health is essential to mental improvements, as well as to comfort, and to secure this end, suitable regulations have been adopted.

The building is equipped with modern sanitary plumbing, while the drinking water is secured from a deep well blasted through solid rock. This pure water, we believe, is greatly conducive to the excellent health of the students, which healthfulness is one of the most attractive features of our school life.

Every attention will be paid to promote health of mind and of body by encouraging the pupils to proper exercise.

Records and Reports

A record of attendance of all school duties, and of deportment, is kept, a copy of which is sent to the parents or guardian at the end of each quarter.

Medals

Honorable rivalry is encouraged by awarding medals for proficiency in certain studies. It is our belief that within proper bounds this is a wholesome incentive.

1. A medal is offered by the Principal to the pupil of the Sophomore Class for the best written examination in arithmetic.

2. A medal is offered by the Alumnæ of the Seminary to the pupil of the four college classes, six having been selected on a preliminary contest, who, on final contest, shows herself to be best in Elocution.

Honors for Medals Awarded for Session 1907-1908

SENIOR HONORS

The Elocution Medal was awarded to Miss Ida Whitley, Millingport, N. C.

Literary Societies

There are two chapters—Alpha and Omega—of the Bernheim Literary Society connected with the institution. They exercise a cultivating influence in composition, debate, and recitation. All students in the Seminary classes are required to join one of these Societies.

Reading Room and Library

A Reading Room and Library are maintained in the Seminary, where access may be had to many of the leading literary and scientific journals of the country and to many of the standard works of literature.

Missionary Society

For many years there has been an active Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society connected with the Seminary. Besides being a religious power, it is made especially beneficial to the young ladies by frequent rotation of office-holding. Thus they are prepared to become leaders in church work.

Terms

The Seminary is divided into four quarters, of nine weeks each. We urgently request every patron to send his daughter or ward promptly at the opening of the session.

Shipping Directions

Our express and freight office is Concord, N. C. All articles sent by freight or express should be addressed, "Concord, N. C., care of Mont Amœna Seminary." If so addressed they will be delivered without delay.

Miscellaneous

It is very desirable that those expecting to send their daughters or wards to this Seminary, should make application before the opening of the session.

Prompt attendance at the opening of the session is important to the progress of the pupil, as well as to the proper organization of the school.

Parents are urgently requested not to indulge their daughters in frequent visits home. Absence from class to make ordinary visits elsewhere, is not allowed. But, in case of sickness, indulgence will be granted.

Should any serious illness make its appearance, parents will be notified immediately, and every possible attention will be shown the patient.

Correspondence with persons not designated by the parents is forbidden. Letters may be sent to the post-office only with the knowledge of the Principal.

It is advisable that pupils be not allowed to contract debts.

Telegrams should be addressed to Mont Amœna Seminary, Concord, N. C., and they will be forwarded by telephone to the institution.

All permits, including list of correspondents, must be addressed directly to the Principal, and not enclosed in letters to the students.

Parents are supposed to comply with our rules and regulations when they place their daughters in our care. Such rules are necessary for the proper government of large bodies of students.

The Seminary physician is a gentleman of ability and culture and has had three years successful experience as hospital physician. He lives only a block distant from the Seminary, and can be called day or night in case of sickness.

Tickets should be purchased through to Concord, N. C., on the Southern Railway. The Principal will meet students on any train, if notified, but it is desirable that all students from the same section come by the same train. Carriages will be in readiness for immediate conveyance to the Seminary. The cost of this livery conveyance, including transportation of baggage, is only 75 cents when students come at the regular opening time of school.
